Paintings of Power and Action in Preston Trombly's Solo Exhibition, "Cauldron of Forgotten Memories"

October 2 through October 27, 2018

Prince Street Gallery is pleased to announce Preston Trombly's solo exhibition of recent larger paintings from Tuesday, October 2 through Saturday, October 27, 2018. There is an opening reception on Thursday, October 4 from 5pm to 8pm.

These larger works - and Trombly's smaller drawings, also on view - express power and action with bold rhythmic marks and striking use of texture. The physicality of Trombly's painting is intensified by pulsating brush strokes, drips, rubs, calligraphic elements and bold color washes.

A master colorist, Trombly uses dark tonal effects that contrast with brighter more saturated colors. This sets the mood for questioning, contemplation, and discovery of ourselves.

Trombly's works have received awards from The National Arts Club, the Cooperstown Art Association and The Art Students League of NY, where he studied for a number of years.

His artwork has been shown throughout the greater Tri-State area, with solo exhibitions at Westfield State University, Krasdale Foods Corporate Headquarters, The Jasper Rand Museum, and Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Given his earlier work as a composer, performer and conductor, it comes as no surprise that Trombly continues to be inspired by lyrical movement, shapes and form.

He holds a Master of Musical Arts degree from the Yale University School of Music. He was a Fellow in Composition and Conducting at the Tanglewood-Berkshire Music Center, a Guggenheim Fellow and a resident fellow at the MacDowell Colony, along with receiving grants from the NEA and the NY State Council on the Arts.

Classical music devotees know Preston as the long-time host of Sirius/XM Satellite Radio's nationally broadcast "Symphony Hall" channel 76.
